T HIS BOOK is dedicated to the members and friends of the Three-Quarters-Century Club, Albion Chapter, whose interest and co-operation in this work have made these pages possible.

FOREWORD

A noted authority on foods has said that foods are cooked "to make them more digestible, to make them more palatable, to develop their flavor and to destroy germs." Science shows us that the kind of food an individual eats has much to do with his health and ability to work.

We all recognize the everyday service of food, and the need for variety and freshness. Let us not forget that simplicity should be the keynote in our daily menus. "We eat to live but we do not live to eat" is the motto of a majority of the human family, although a small percentage follows the converse of this statement.

This "Centennial Edition" is so named in memory of the early pioneers of Albion who made their first visible migration westward to what is now Albion, one hundred years ago. Many of their descendants living in Albion and vicinity today are numbered in the membership of this club. We pause a moment as we pay tribute to the influence of early pioneer cookery which leaves its indelible imprint on the pages of this book.

We would like to mention another volume, also "Centennial Edition," entitled "Milestones and Memories," compiled and published by the club at this time, which contains a brief resume of the first one hundred years' history of Albion, (1831-1931,) and is dedicated to the memory of Albion's pioneers.

This collection of over four hundred Favorite Recipes has been contributed by members, relatives and friends of the Three-Quarters-Century Club, Albion Chapter. We call special attention to Memory Recipes for departed relatives, also old choice recipes, which have been in use in some families for several generations.

All are tried and tested recipes which even the most inexperienced cook can comprehend clearly on account of the convenient classification of topics and method of explanation given in preparing most of the articles.

We conclude with this excellent maxim, "Eat plenty, wisely, and waste nothing."

Miriam E. Krenerick.

SWEET GRAPE JUICE

Wash grapes on the stems, pick off and measure into glass jars that have been well sterilized. In each quart jar use 1 heaping cupful grapes and 1 scant cupful granulated sugar, then pour in boiling water until it starts to run over edges of jar. Seal at once and invert to test for leaks. Keep in a dry cellar. It saves space to use 2 quart jars and they cost only a few cents more than quart jars.

ICED COCOA

6 tablespoon cocoa
4 tablespoons sugar.
Dash of salt
1 cup cold water
3 cups milk
Mix cocoa, sugar, salt and water in double boiler (upper part) and place over direct heat. Stir until smooth, boil 2 minutes. Place over hot water, and heat. Beat well, using rotary egg beater. Let cool and pour over cracked ice in glasses. Top each glass with 1 tablespoon whipped cream.

DELICIOUS PUNCH

6 lemons
2 oranges
1 package jello (wild cherry)
4 to 6 cups sugar
Squeeze juices from lemons and oranges, add sugar and let set a while, so that sugar is pretty well dissolved in fruit juice. Then add about 3 quarts water. Regulate amount of sugar to taste according to tartness. Dissolve jello in 1 quart boiling water, cool thoroughly, then add to liquid making about 1 gallon of punch. Strain if desired. Chill by putting in ice box or adding cracked ice. Any flavor of jello preferred may be used and cold tea spiced with cloves may be added if desirable, but if so, do not use as much water in proportion to amount of cold tea added. Will serve 16 to 20.

As we buffalo hunters made them 50 years ago. We used a Dutch oven which is a skillet about 10 or 12 inches across and 3½ or 4 inches deep with a heavy cast iron cover. We had a butter crock to mix our dough in, kept it covered with a pie tin with wire across the top.

Stir flour and water together and let stand a few days until sour. Put amount flour you think you will need into the mixing pan, mix soda with flour dry, add a little salt. Make an opening in center and pour in sour dough, holding back enough to mix another new batch, and mix new batch as soon as done baking. We would stir in flour until stiff enough to mix with the hands, then squeeze dough out with thumb and fingers, making small biscuits, even size, place around next to outside of oven first, then fill in the middle. In the meantime have cover heating on the fire. Pull out some coals, set the oven on,

put cover on and put few coals on cover. I hunted buffalo five years in the West beginning in the fall of 1876 and this is the way we made our biscuit.

Remove at once and stir until smooth and velvety. Much stirring helps to make puffs light. Set aside to cool, (herein lies the secret of having the puffs larger) Cool until paste is slightly warm to the touch, before adding eggs, one at a time, beating, constantly after each addition. Vigorous beating will assure smoothness. Drop by tablespoon on well greased pan.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Burnt sugar syrup added to gravy gives it a dark rich color and may be used in cakes and icings.

When rinsing clothes in hard water if a little milk is added to the bluing water, it will prevent the blue setting in streaks.

Mrs. Frank Pierce

When cooking, if anything burns, put the kettle roaster or whatever it is, into some cold water for a few minutes unless burned too badly.

It will loosen finely and not taste burned. I have tried it, and it works fine.
